Baltimore Convention.

We have the proceedings of two day's session of the democratic convention, and an account of the stormy scenes before the committee on credentials last night, when the battle between the rival factions broke out in its fierceness. Two duels are said to certainly grow out of the dispute between the representatives of Douglass and anti-slavery in the south. We should have been quite sure from the provocations given, that this would have been the case, but it is assumed that they have sent for Roger C. Atwood to act as one of the seconds. Our expectations of a duel were at once blasted, when we heard of that, and the only hope that these southern blinds will be permitted to find each other dependent upon keeping Roger from the ground, he is as particular about weapons, and so much afraid of using "bully" fighting irons in such a case.

Mr. Sumner might make further additions to his appendix illustrative of the "barbarism of slavery" from the scenes at Baltimore. The barbarous passions which are so rife in that city at the present time, are the natural result of the institution of slavery toting up the nature of man, degrading and acculturating him.

It is difficult, amidst all this "tall and trouble," to say what are the prospects of Douglass. The last accounts seem to favor him, but we consider his chances desperate, and if he should be nominated, there is such an absolute hatred towards him and his followers in the south, among a majority of the party, that another convention would hardly be made.

Whatever view of the case may be taken of the triumphant election of Lincoln and Hamlin is acknowledged now by the cooler members of the democratic party to be a foregone conclusion.

P. S. Later intelligence renders it certain that there will be another disruption—if the Douglass delegates from Louisiana are admitted, fifty-five delegates, with the prospect of the convention at their head, will secede, and if the Douglass delegates are not admitted the northwest will withdraw! for the northwest—we like their plan!

RESIGNATION OF FRANCIS P. BLAIR. This gentleman having been admitted to his seat in the house of representatives, for which a contest has been pending between himself and Mr. Barrett, now announces his resignation, intending to let the people again decide the matter between himself and his opponent. However, although this may appear to be quite unnecessary, as the popular was well assured that Mr. Blair was in the right and that the most unscrupulous frauds had been perpetrated to defeat him, Mr. B. has published an address and boldly challenges his opponent, Mr. Barrett, to contest another election with him upon the same principle which entered into the previous contest.

THE "Beehive Journal" says that a sensible and level-headed member of the bar and legislature, who is not, however, belonging to that state, to satisfy no exertion in favor of Mr. James Reed, and the same will be sold in a few days at public vendor. The journal gives the city a hearty welcome the following winter, which is good in any locality. The city, like individuals, can get along a great deal better by paying its debts when they become due, instead of being obliged to pay lawyer's fees and costs of suit.

THE Grant County Herald says that a number of valuable sheep have lately been killed by dogs in Millville in that country. The dog law immediately became very popular in that town.

NAVIGATION OF THE RED RIVER OF THE NORTH.—The St. Paul papers have an extra from the Nor-West, published at Fort Garry, and dated June 1st, gives a very interesting account of the return of the Andrew Norwest from her trip on the Red River of the North. Mr. C. Burbank, of St. Paul, was on board, and represents that from Red Lake River to Fort Garry there is at all times a depth of water sufficient to float the largest craft on the Mississippi river. It is the intention of Mr. Burbank to run from Fort Garry to Georgetown in 10 days. He also expects to set down passengers in St. Paul from Fort Garry in nine days. The goods by the boat were for the Hudson Bay Company.

THE Madison Argus says that the Attorney General disagrees with the Secretary of State on the subject of taxing land contracts. He thinks they should not be taxed.

FIVE or six miles south of Lanesville, in this state, three horses were struck and killed by lightning, one day last week. The lightning first struck a tree under which they probably had been standing for shelter.

BALTIMORE CONVENTION.

BALTIMORE, June 19.—The following is a continuation of the proceedings of Monday.

Mr. Ewing, of Tenes, desired to see the democracy present a united front, and fighting, not their own friends, but the republicans party. He said that nothing official was known of any contested seats from Mississippi, Florida and Texas. He desired the states admitted. There was no reason why they should be left out.

The south believes that if a majority of the northern states adopt principles that the southern men cannot adopt, it is proper and honorable for them to withdraw. He had exhorted southern states not to withdraw, and his constituents would not justify him in such an action. He concluded by exhorting the convention to strike out Arkansas, and admit Florida, Mississippi and Texas.

Mr. Loring, of Mass., was surprised to find any opposition to admitting succeeding delegates to the convention. He had hoped, for the first time in a democratic convention, of sections of the country and the party. He denied the right of the convention to insist on a pledge from any delegate—the only condition that if Florida was excluded, he would go with her.

Mr. Merrick, of Ill., said his state was ready to abide by the action of the convention.

Mr. King, of Mo., argued that the sending delegations should be subject to the will of the convention, and if reports were true, they were not entitled to seats.

Mr. Atkin, of Tenn., said his state had a high regard for her northern friends. She is a sound democratic state. Her democracy never needs any pledges and no tests. Whenever the candidate was named he was ready to support him. He concluded by moving the previous question.

Pending the question, a motion was made to adjourn.

Mr. Stewart, of Md., demanded a vote by states on seconding the call for the previous question.

Amid great excitement, the vote was taken, and resulted, ayes 227, nays 15.

The previous question was seconded.

The convention then adjourned till ten o'clock to-morrow.

The probability now is the previous question will be ordered, and that Mr. Gilmore's amendment will be voted down.

It looks as if the vote of New York will divide us on the admission of the southern delegations generally, where there is no contention.

Mr. Sumner might make further additions to his appendix illustrative of the "barbarism of slavery" from the scenes at Baltimore. The barbarous passions which are so rife in that city at the present time, are the natural result of the institution of slavery toting up the nature of man, degrading and acculturating him.

Hooper, struck him in the face, and then stopped back a little and drew a pistol from his pocket. Mr. Hooper also prepared to draw a similar weapon, but the friends of Col. Hindman immediately surrounded him, and told him he had gone far enough, and prevented him using the pistol. Col. Hindman apologized to the committee for the violence he had been obliged to use. Mr. Hooper gave no further indication of retaliation, apparently satisfied that the affair had been drawn to a point where a hostile meeting must ensue. A duel between the parties is expected as a matter of course, but it will probably be delayed until the convention adjourns.

AN EMBARRASSING MISTAKE.—An Englishman who could not speak good German was riding a few weeks ago on the railroad from Dresden to Leipzig, when he asked, as well as he could, how long it took to go through the tunnel. The person he spoke to thought he asked how long before the tunnel would be reached, and so he answered, "in half an hour." When they approached the place the Englishman threw down his carpet bag and pulled off his coat. In a few moments all were enveloped in the darkness of the tunnel. After some ten minutes a streak of light appeared, and the ladies oppressed by the heavy atmosphere, seemed impatient to be again in pure air. Soon the full light came, every one took a long breath, when suddenly the ladies gave a simultaneous shriek and pulled their veils over their faces, to hide from them the disastrous condition of the Englishman. The poor man thought the passage through the tunnel would take thirty minutes, and had been surprised by reaching it in the midst of his toilet, which he had not been able to make at Dresden, and for which he thought he would take advantage of the supposed half hour's darkness.

WASHINGON'S BIRTH-PLACE.—It is proposed to have the site of the birth-place of Washington, in Westmoreland county, Va., on the Potomac river, enclosed, and a roadway made to it. The ground presented to the state in trust for this purpose covers about an acre. A monument will also be put up to designate the spot.

THE LARGEST CARGO YET.—On Sunday, the bark Great West cleared from Chicago for Buffalo with thirty-two thousand four hundred bushels of corn!

The emigrant arrivals at New York, thus-far this year foot up 41,131, a gain of just 10,000 on last year.

Seven hundred bushels of strawberries have been sold at and shipped from Katamazoo this season.

The young men at Sturgis, Michigan, wanting a fire engine, have planted an eight acre lot in order to grow one; that is, the proceeds are to be applied that way. They turned out forty strong, with a band of musicians, and planted the lot in forty minutes.

Mr. Sumner might make further additions to his appendix illustrating of the "barbarism of slavery" from the scenes at Baltimore. The barbarous passions which are so ripe in that city at the present time, are the natural results of the institution of slavery acting upon the nature of man, degrading and uncivilizing him.

It is difficult, amidst all this "toil and trouble," to say what are the prospects of Douglass. The last accounts seem to favor him, but we consider his chances desperate, and if he should be nominated, there is such an absolute hatred towards him and his followers in the south, among a majority of the party, that another nomination would immediately be made.

Whatever view of the case may be taken of the triumphant election of Lincoln and Hamlin is acknowledged now by the cooler members of the democratic party to be a foregone conclusion.

P. S. Later intelligence renders it certain that there will be another disruption.—If the Douglass delegates from Louisiana are admitted, fifty-five delegates, with the president of the convention at their head, will secede; and if the Douglass delegates are not admitted the northwest will withdraw! Good for the northwest—we like their pluck.

RESIGNATION OF FRANK P. BLAIR.—This

gentleman having been admitted to his seat in the house of representatives, for which a contest has been pending between himself and Mr. Barrett, now announces his resignation, intending to let the people again decide the matter between himself and his opnent. However chivalry this may appear, it was quite unnecessary, as the public was well assured that Mr. Blair was in the right, and that the most unscrupulous frauds had been perpetrated to defeat him.

Mr. B. has published an address and boldly challenges his opponent, Mr. Barrett, to contest another election with him upon the same principles which entered into the previous contest.

—The Racine Journal says that a constable has levied upon a number of pows and scrapers, also the safe belonging to that city, to satisfy an execution in favor of Mr. James Reed, and the same will be referred to the committee.

The convention then, by a vote of 185 to the convention had no right to keep trained bands to prevent members from entering the hall. Mr. Stetson of New York, also, had stopped at the door, but did not think it sufficient cause for the dissolution of the committee.

The convention unanimously agreed to a suspension of the rules that this might be done.

Mr. Gilmore, in pursuance of this arrangement, withdrew his amendment, and Mr. Church offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the credentials of all person claiming seats in this convention made vacant by the preceding delegates at Charleston, be referred to the committee, which is instructed to report as soon as practicable the names of those entitled to seats.

Mr. Sibley of Minn., said a difficulty existed in that delegation, and desired to know if that would be referred to the committee.

The president suggested that this would be settled by the convention at the proper time.

Mr. McCook of Ohio, moved to adjourn,

but withdrew it that Mr. Hallie of Mass.

might explain that he now claimed the seat which had been filled by his substitute at Charleston, but who now declined giving it up.

After some discussion, this case, were with convention. A letter was received from the chairman of the committee on credentials,

stating that they would not be ready to report until to-night, and begging the convention to continue its session during the evening. The convention adjourned till to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

BALTIMORE, June 19.—9 P. M.

A special despatch says the committee on credentials has been in session most of the day. These sessions are private, and they allow each party claiming seats 13 minutes to present their cases.

It is said the committee have resolved to admit Mississippi, who comes regularly delegated without contestants, and to reject

Florida, who is unacquainted with the convenion, and Texas, where no convention has been held since the adjournment of the Charleston convention.

The Arkansas case was taken up, and presented by Col. Hindman for the Charle-ton delegates, and by Mr. Hooper for the contests.

During Mr. Hindman's remarks he designated the convention held at Madison,

when the Douglass delegates were appointed, as a mass meeting, and said that not more than 150 persons were present. They were all from Arkansas.

In the course of Mr. Hooper's reply, he pointed twice or three times towards Col.

Hindman with his finger, and alluded to him as "that man," in a manner which Col.

H. considered insulting, and he struck or proceeded to say that "the statement by was false, unequivocally false." Col. Hind-

BALTIMORE CONVENTION.

BALTIMORE, June 19.

[The following is a continuation of the proceedings of Monday.]

Mr. Ewing, of Tenn., desired to see the democracy present a united front, and fighting, not their own friends, but the republican party. He said that nothing official was known of any contested seats from Louisiana, Florida and Texas. He desired the states admitted. There was no reason why they should be left out. The south believes that if a majority of the southern states adopt, it is proper and honorable for them to withdraw. He had exhorted southern states not to withdraw, and his constituents would not justi-fy him in such an action. He concluded by exhorting the convention to strike out Arkansas, and admit Florida, Mississippi and Texas.

Printing Office Removal.

The Gazette Office is in process of removal to Lappin's Block. A fine suit of rooms have been prepared for us there, and we hope to be fairly located in our new quarters at the close of the week. Until Friday morning, we can be found in our present place of business. After that time, we shall be in occupation of the new rooms.

To-morrow we shall not issue a regular edition of our daily, but each subscriber will be served with an extra containing the telegraph report of the Baltimore convention, and any other important news that may come.

EXCURSION TO CRYSTAL LAKE.—This excursion, which is advertised in another column, will take place on Thursday the 25th inst., and will, we do not doubt, be exceedingly pleasant to all who may take part in it. Crystal Lake is a beautiful sheet of water in McHenry county, IL, fifty-three miles from this city. It is two miles from the main track of the Chicago and Northwestern railway, and will be reached by the cars from this road, over a track built for the purpose of carrying ice to Chicago; the cars will remain at the lake throughout the day, and will serve as a place for rest for children and others. The train, it will be seen, leaves at 8 o'clock in the morning and returns at eight in the evening, giving ample time for enjoyment and a return by daylight. The point selected for the picnic is one of the most delightful spots in a region of rare beauty, and is the summer resort of the people of Chicago, on such excursions. The arrangements are under the charge of a judicious committee who will see that every thing necessary for the convenience, pleasure and safety of the party are provided. We hope and expect that a large party will go out upon this excursion to enjoy a day of social intercourse, amid unsurpassed rural scenery. Let all go who can, and for get for a while the cares of home and business. As for safety, no one need to fear on that account, as the train will be under the special charge of Mr. Pattison, of this city, whose carefulness is proverbial. We would especially urge that a large number of children be permitted to go, as no picnic or excursion is good for, any thing without them. To witness their intense enjoyment on such occasions is a pleasure to every one.

As this is a public picnic it would scarcely be possible for the committee to provide refreshments, without knowing sometime before hand how many persons would attend, it will therefore be the best way for families and parties to carry their own dinner baskets, and regulate their own provisions in their own way, subject only to the necessities of the occasion. Thus if every body takes care of number one in this particular every body will be satisfied, and the committee saved a vast amount of trouble. We like this plan and think it will give general satisfaction. Let it be understood, then, that all are invited who choose to take part in this grand excursion, and that each one who designs to participate in it will make the requisite preparations before hand.

ELOCUTIONARY READINGS.—Messrs. Cushman and Hudson acquitted themselves creditably in their readings at Lappin's Hall last evening. The style of each was well adapted to the character of the pieces read, and neither themselves nor their friends need fear any other failure than a passing house, if they decide to attempt the entertainment of the public in the capacity in which they appeared last evening. They ought to have had a larger audience than greeted them, and would have had if other entertainments or pursuits had not withdrawn many of our citizens from the hall. We do not know whether they intend to give their reading elsewhere, but if they shall hereafter visit any of our neighboring towns we commend them as fully worthy of support. The selection of pieces here was excellent, embracing some of the most popular in the programmes of Mr. Alfred Burnett.

THE FORTH AT SHOPIERE.—The Fourth of July will be celebrated by the citizens of Clinton and Turin in a grove on the premises of Milton S. Warner, in Turin. An address will be delivered by the Rev. M. P. Kinney, of Janesville, after which a dinner will be served at a moderate charge, the proceeds of which will be used for furnishing the house of worship now being erected by the Congregational society of Clinton. The attendance and patronage of the public will be gratefully received.

Respectfully yours,
W. H. BURNARD.

Mrs. Willie Wood showed us a strawberry last evening which measured 54 inches in circumference. It was a Hovey Seedling.

Speaking of dogs, we saw the other day upon a canine, a hogs collar got up to evade the dog law. It consisted of a strap and a piece of tin fastened upon it, with an inscription upon it. It is well calculated to deceive the owner of the dog in the belief that his pup is safe.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH AT STOUGHTON.—The people of Stoughton will celebrate the 4th with commendable spirit and liberality. Myron H. Orton, of Madison, has been engaged as orator. A dinner will be served and a display of fire works will take place in the evening. This celebration will be convenient to a large section of country, and we hope our Stoughton friends will have the good time they so well deserve.

The following officers of the day, in addition to Mr. Orton, as orator, have been selected: President, E. H. Lacey; Vice Presidents, Luke Stoughton, Lyman Brown, Isaac Gregory, A. T. Reed; Marshal, Col. Jonathan Mosher; Reader, Wm. C. Delamater; Chaplain, Wm. C. Whitford. Committee of Arrangements, J. R. Boyce, F. Allen and Dennis Leahy.

CIRCUIT COURT.—This court is now in its third week. The civil jury cases have been nearly finished. Generally, they have been of an unimportant character, and interest the parties litigating more than the public. The more important ones have been the suit of Blair against the Racine railroad, (which we have noticed,) a suit against the city of Janesville by S. J. Chase for injuries sustained by falling in the night down the declivity at the south end of Monterey bridge, in which he recovered $200, and the suit from Beloit, Ritchie vs. Hodgeson, in which a verdict of $600 was rendered for the plaintiff.

The criminal calendar has been taken up. The case of John McDowell and Nelson Mc Doe for larceny was dismissed, and a nolle prosequi entered by the district attorney on the indictment of James Farmer for forgery. Chancey Ferris plead guilty to a charge of larceny. Jeremiah B. Trout stood trial for burglary and was convicted.

To-day the court has been occupied with the trial of Jeremiah Coughly for the murder of David Flenn in Beloit. The case is not finished when we go to press.

When the criminal calendar was reached, an objection was taken to the validity of all the indictments found by the grand jury. The sheriff had issued his notice for a panel of 24 jurors; but before the jury was drawn the law reducing the number of jurors had taken effect, and but 16 were sworn. Judge Noggle overruled the objection, we understand, and remarked, that an appeal could be taken to the supreme court. If an appeal were taken, he should continue the case on the calendar until the next term of the circuit court.

ORATOR AT MONROE.—James Armstrong, of this city, is to deliver the oration at Monroe, on the 4th of July.

JANESVILLE, May 24, '60. The undersigned, desirous hereby to express his satisfaction with the course pursued toward him, in relation to his late loss by fire, by F. Whitaker, esqr., agent of the Phenix Insurance Company of Brooklyn. The prompt adjustment and settlement of the loss, and the evidence of all quibbling rendered the adjustment peculiarly easy and satisfactory. With such conduct on their own, and the part of their representatives, the company must gain confidence among us. MICHAEL DOER.

F. WHITAKER, Esq.—Dear Sir:—I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt through your hands of $2,362—the amount due me on account of my loss by fire under policies issued by you as agent for the Phenix Insurance Company of Brooklyn.

The prompt and honorable action of the company and its agent, immediately upon the adjustment of the loss, is highly satisfactory to me, and I take pleasure in making it known for the benefit of those who desire reliable insurance.

F. N. THOMPSON.
Janesville, Wis., June 13, 1860.

NO NEED FOR ALARM.—Ladies who are asked for their age by the census taker need have no fear that the number years which have passed over their heads will be published.

The question is only asked that he may make up a table of the number of ladies between 20 and 30, or between 30 and 40 years of age.

HABEAS CORPUS DISREGARDED.—The motion for a discharge of Mr. Fitch, late editor of the Free Democrat, was denied on the hearing before Commissioner Savage. Another writ was issued, returnable before Judge Smith, allowing the agent of the state of Missouri twenty-four hours in which to answer, and in the meantime the sheriff of Missouri had started on the afternoon train with the prisoner for Missouri.

Mr. Merry, the owner of Thorntony, the winner of the Derby, won $350,000 on that race.

LIFE INSURANCE.—Those desiring this safe and cheap protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company, which has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the leading business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confidence that our savings have been more than equal to that of the most "unquestioned," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGGETT, President.
A. W. KELLOGG, Secretary.

W. M. MEYER, F. Dodge, and W. H. Woodward, produce dealers, and C. S. Dodge, will receive applications for insurance, and will also be happy to give information as to the condition agreed to, any one of whom is being informed, in Janesville.

ELOCUTIONARY READINGS.—Messrs. Cushman and Hudson acquitted themselves creditably in their readings at Lappin's Hall last evening. The style of each was well adapted to the character of the pieces read, and neither themselves nor their friends need fear any other failure than a passing house, if they decide to attempt the entertainment of the public in the capacity in which they appeared last evening. THE COMMERCIAL.—Janesville Wholesale Market. Reported for the Janesville Gazette, by BUMP & GRAY, GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS.

JANESVILLE, June 20, 1860. Receipts of wheat were quite light to-day, there being only about 700 bushels on the market. Prices ranged at yesterday's rates, millers taking all the good samples. Receipts of coarse grains light and unchanged.

We make up prices as follows: WHITR.—white winter 60cts.; good to choice milling spring at 60cts.; common to this shipping, 50cts.

CORN—shelled, per 100 lbs., 25cts.; ear per 70 lbs., 25cts.

OATS—in good receipt at 25cts. per bushel.

RYE—quarantine at 50cts. per 100 lbs. None coming forward.

BARLEY—shill at 40cts. per 50 lbs. Choice to choice.

POTATOES—plenty at 30cts. per bushel for good to choice ones.

BUTTER—plenty at 11cts.

EGGS—in fair demand at 7cts. per dozen.

HIDES—green, 6cts.; dry, 5cts.; 12cts.

FOUR—spring at 25cts., 25%; winter, 30%.

POULTRY—chickens, 6cts.; turkeys, 7cts.

WOOL—shill at 20cts. per pound for common to choice fine clip.

CHICAGO MARKET.

TUESDAY evening, June 19. Wheat advanced, 10 shill 10cts. in store, No 1 spring, 104, No 2, 102. Flour at 47cts. for spring extractions, 3,764.00. Corn, No. 1, 47. Oats 29 1/2. Barley 55. Butter 50cts. for fresh.

The wool market may be said to have opened for the season, and buyers are offering a shade better prices, although the receipts are trifling, and the market has not been fairly tested. As far as appearances go, however, there is no prospect of the prophecies of eastern wool buyers—that prices will rule 5cts. lower than year-previous. The following are the clearing house quotations: full blood Merino, 40, three quarter blood Merino, 37 1/2, half blood 33 1/2, quarter blood, 30 1/2, native, 27 1/2.
